The Inlanders are Now Showing Concern For the Future

Cuban Women Show Regard For Funston by Pelting His
Auto With Roses

Havana, Oct. 5.—Now that the disarmament of the revolutionists and the government volunteers is progressing steadily and thoughtful portions of the public of all nationalities are anxiously discussing the possibilities of Cuba's future form of government. The desire for annexation, which has been carefully concealed for the past four years, is now voiced openly and the wish that the United States retain some measure of actual control in Cuban affairs is heard more insistently than ever.

Representatives of leading elements, both Cuban and foreign, have been asked to attend a meeting next Sunday to discuss the feasibility of holding some sort of plebiscite by which all classes of the population would be enabled to express their ideas on what the future of government should be. One plan suggested is the formation into groups of the various foreign elements, each of which will formulate its own project of government. The idea of holding the next elections in January has been entirely abandoned, the general preference among Cubans appearing to favor holding elections in June. The question of the status of congress, and whether senators and representatives are to receive their salaries after the establishment of the provisional government will be decided in Washington.

Reports of the disarmament operations show considerable delay and confusion, but no real opposition. On the whole the work is proceeding smoothly, and the only complication encountered was met and disposed of by General Funston, assisted by General Agramonte of the disarmament commission. It appears that General Agramonte's agreement to disarm and disband was conditional on the surrender and disarmament also of all the policemen in the town of Guines. General Funston declared that unless the mayor or agreed to the conditions, an armed force would be sent to disarm Agramonte's army, which numbers 1,100 men, and that this would possibly result in bloodshed. Argument had no effect on the mayor until he was told that he could retain the police payroll and reinstate his men after quiet had been restored. General Funston further suggested the sending of marines to police the town temporarily, and this plan was accepted. General Funston and Agramonte then visited General Agramonte at the village of Cottero and found him agreeable to the compromise. The news that General Funston was passing through spread throughout the section, and on the return trip to Havana women along the route pelleted Funston's automobile with flowers.

GREAT REUNION YEAR

Never Before in History of this Section Have Family Gatherings Been as Numerous

Never in the history of this part of the State have there been such great gatherings of kinsfolks and friends in family reunions and social as well as church gatherings. It is a commendable feature of the progress of the American people and there is none more American than in this section of the Hoosier State. In the ceaseless whirl of business and everyday life, cousins and aunts and uncles grow more and more distant toward each other if there were not this manner of renewing old time love and recalling the happenings of years ago. Old neighbors who once lived across the woods before father came to the city to serve a term as county auditor or treasurer are almost forgotten. They were cousins too before people left the farm and played in their orchard lots at times, but some grew up in town and others still remained in the country. Now if one can't see them at the reunions he doesn't often get to see them at all. This gathering together of old friends and acquaintances tends to cement together the friendship of years ago and to recall the reminiscence of pleasant happenings and to remind people that there is something more precious in life than the mad rush after possession and position.

A STORMY CONVENTION

Massachusetts Democracy
Torn and Rent by Partisan Rancor

Moran Faction in the Ascendant
Indorses Both Bryan
and Hearst

Boston, Oct. 5.—A new era for the Massachusetts Democracy was inaugurated yesterday by the state convention of that party, when after a turbulent struggle over indorsing Wm. J. Bryan and Wm. R. Hearst, John B. Moran, district attorney for Suffolk county, who was already the nominee of the Prohibition party and the Independence League, was nominated for governor by acclamation. Save in one possible particular, Moran dominated the convention absolutely and completely and his so-called radical wing of the party, of which he is the sponsor and active leader, was in control. The old-time factors, Josiah Quincy, Congressman J. A. Sullivan, Congressman Wm. S. McNary and the element represented by such Democrats as former Governor William L. Douglas and Henry M. Whitney was utterly powerless. The Moran sentiment, which these men had vainly sought to stem before the primaries, swept everything before it. Two of the candidates beside Mr. Moran had been nominated by the Independence League, Brown for lieutenant governor and Hise for auditor.

The platform adopted was prolific in demands for reform and centered largely in those changes in the law which have been strongly favored by Moran during his service as district attorney and in his declaration of principles when he announced his candidacy for governor. The platform indorsed the leadership and Democracy of both Bryan and Hearst. The indorsement of the Hearst Democracy and of his leadership in New York was the first rock on which the convention split. Neither Bryan nor Hearst was supported for the next presidential nomination in the platform, but both were praised.

The Bryan paragraph was greeted with cheers and handclapping and a general demonstration which lasted more than a minute, but when the first words of the Hearst tribute were reached there were hisses and cries of "No, no," and "Bryan only." Then the Hearst supporters, given new vigor by the memory that the Hearst Democracy had indorsed Moran for governor, almost drowned out the Bryan delegates. The permanent chairman, former Mayor John P. Feeney, in vain rapped for quiet. He surrendered, exhausted, and the reading of the resolutions was not resumed until the convention had spent itself. At the end the demonstration against and for Hearst began all over again. The vote on the question of adopting the platform as read was a roar, rather than a chorus of ayes and noes. The vote was doubted, and upon a rising vote being taken, the chair declared the resolutions adopted.

The convention was disrupted a second time over the indorsement of Mr. Bryan for president. It came after all the nominations had been made and when many of the delegates had left for their homes. It was a move which seemed to split the Moran forces themselves. It was started quietly by George Fred Williams, when most of the delegates were expecting adjournment. Mr. Williams moved that the convention go on record as favoring the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the national Democratic party of 1908. The resolution was bitterly opposed by Granville S. McFarland of Cambridge, secretary of the Moran campaign committee. In unequivocal language he charged that the Bryan resolution had been presented with "felonious intent." The resolution indorsing Bryan for president was declared carried after a viva voce vote, and the convention was immediately adjourned.

New Castle Has Been

Col. Isaac W. Brown, the "bird and bee man," who is well known in Rushville, will not re-enter the lecture field this winter. This, he announces, is due to poor health. For some months it is said he has been ailing as a result of constant and prolonged traveling and lecturing. He has appeared in all parts of the country in the interests of the birds and bees, winning friends who long to hear him again. Brown says, however, that his forced retirement from activity will not be greatly prolonged and that he expects to re-enter the active field next spring.

Col. Brown's visit to Rushville have always been interesting events and young and old give him a hearty welcome.

The agreements filed in this county include only those made in Rushville and Walker townships.

WAS JOHN ONE OF THE KNIGHTS?

Shelbyville Paper Publishes Sworn Statement Implicat-
ing Mr. John Wingate

And slinging to a degree as to be shameful is being indulged in by some of the Shelbyville papers. John J. Wingate, formerly editor of the Republican and now publisher and proprietor of the News, a paper claiming independence, has drawn the fire of Clarence Lyon, present editor of the Republican. Last Wednesday, in an article headed with type two inches high, the Republican accused Mr. Wingate with having been a member of the Knights of the Golden Circle, a treasonable organization that flourished during the war and with having stolen a lot of guns from the Home Guards' Armory in 1863, and concealed them in a printing office where he (Wingate) then worked.

In proof of his charges Editor Lyon published a statement of James L. Capp, a brother of Fred A. Capp, of this city, who says he helped move the guns at Wingate's request.

How much reliance can be placed in Capp's statement is not known and forty-three years is a long time and corroborative evidence might be hard to find. Anyway the war is over and all those taking sides with the South, and the Southerners themselves, have been forgiven. At the time those misguided men acted in good faith, according to their convictions, and no doubt many of them have since seen the error of their way. At any rate the matter has been forgiven and forgotten, and it is in very poor taste for any paper to rake up these matters at this late day.

As a former Republican, the articles in Mr. Wingate's "Independent" paper assailing Mr. Watson have been much quoted by the Democratic press. Mr. Wingate having been a faithful worker in the ranks of the Republican party for many years in a hopelessly Democratic county, thought himself deserving of some political plum, and for this reason he has long been a candidate for postmaster at Shelbyville, but for some reason never "landed."

Concerning the charge made in the Shelbyville Republican, Mr. Wingate publishes the following card:

"In justice to myself it is proper that I should make a statement in regard to the charge made against me in the Evening Republican of Oct. 3d, 1906, by one O. C. Lyon, editor, and one of the proprietors of said paper. The charges are false in each and every particular, and what I deem criminally libelous and damaging to my character. In due course of time I will proceed to make an example of the author and editor of said paper, and the company he represents. There is not a single truthful statement made in the article published. There is in particular still one man living in this city who is conversant with all the facts in the case and that is K. M. Hord, who appeared for James L. Capp in case referred to in the United States Court. J. J. WINGATE."

All Republican voters in Rush county, Indiana, are hereby warned that if they move from one precinct to another, after October 6, 1906, they will not be entitled to vote at the General Election, to be held November 6, 1906. Republicans are urged to govern themselves accordingly.

CHARLES FRAZEE,
Chairman.

The newspaper fight in Shelbyville is "getting to be something fierce."

"The time has arrived when a political party is known by the men it selects to manage its affairs," says Mr. Bryan's "Commoner." The national chairman of Mr. Bryan's party is Thomas Taggart, of French Lick Springs.

President Roosevelt says of the last congress: "No congress has ever more clearly shown its practical appreciation of the fact that the welfare of the wage-makers and the welfare of tillers of the soil make the real basis of the welfare of the nation as a whole."

A clean election agreement has finally been reached by both the Republican and Democratic committees. It behooves both parties now to carry out the agreement and Rush county will witness for the first time a clean election—in which the result will show the true voice of the people. The movement was given a trial during the last city election, and the result was very satisfactory—to the Republicans at least. A clean election gave a big majority for the Republican city ticket. A clean election in the county will have the same effect. Rush county is normally Republican by a handsome majority.

Governor Hanly has consented to speak in Rushville on October 23d, and it will be a pleasure of Rush county citizens to listen to Indiana's executive of whom all are proud. Gov. Hanly's recent keynote speech sounds clear and true above the Democratic demagoguery of Taggart and Greene Smith. Reviewing the history of the present administration in Indiana he sums up the long list of things done in the interest of the taxpayers and law-abiding citizens. Then follows what by the aid of the endorsement of the voters this fall and the election of a Republican State legislature and State officers he expects to accomplish in the next two years. It is a clear cut, positive program, no glittering generalities which mean everything or nothing according to the notion of those upon whom responsibility may rest

THE FAIRBANKS' SPECIAL

Will Be the Big Feature of Campaign's Closing Days.

Indianapolis, Ind., October 5.—Chairman Hayes of the state Republican speakers' bureau is arranging the details relative to the itinerary of the Fairbanks special Nov. 1, 2 and 3. It is very likely, however, that no attempt will be made to complete these plans until the itinerary for Bryan's trip, Oct. 22, 23 and 24, is announced. The Republicans will arrange for a number of big rallies along the route selected for the "all stars" special. Special attention will be paid to the doubtful districts and every effort will be put forth to arouse the voters so they will go to the polls. It is very likely that night meetings will be held at Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and Evansville, at which not only the vice president, but Senators Hemenway, Beveridge and Governor Hanly will appear. Senator Beveridge will begin his tour of the state at Logansport Oct. 17. He will speak at Richmond the 18th, Noblesville the 19th, Dunkirk the 20th, Hammond the 22d, and Warsaw the 23d. There is an enormous demand for speeches by him. He will be busy every day of the campaign after Oct. 17. John Moorman of Knox, Thirteenth district chairman, was here today urging the Republican state committee to send him some big speakers.

Chairman O'Brien of the Democratic state committee had a conference here today with Colonel Charles L. Jewett of New Albany relative to the situation in the Third district. Colonel Jewett's proposition to Cox and Zenor to turn over the salary of the office of congressman from the district for the next two years to reimburse them for their expenses in making a race for the nomination which both are claiming, in case they agree to withdraw, was discussed. The campaign managers are very anxious to bring about a settlement in the Third within the next few days, as the county tickets are being injured by the inability of the two congressional nominees to reach an agreement. Colonel Jewett's proposition found much favor here. He said he has no idea how Cox and Zenor will regard it, as he has not heard from them. Alvin Padgett of Washington, chairman of the Second district, was here conferring with Chairman O'Brien and Gilbert Hendren, chairman of the speakers' bureau, about Bryan's dates for the Second. He was assured that Bryan will speak at least four times in the Second. Padgett is very optimistic over the outlook for the election of Cyrus E. Davis of Bloomfield to congress from the Second. Edward Huffman of Fort Wayne, chairman of the Allen county Democratic committee, spent today at the state headquarters. He said that he has engaged the baseball park at Ft. Wayne for the Bryan meeting the night of Oct. 24, and that 10,000 people will turn out to hear the Great Commoner. He also said that Allen county will get back into the Democratic column this year with an old-time majority.

Chairman O'Brien and Chairman Goodrich are both at their desks to remain constantly until the close of the campaign. The important work will come within the next month. The efforts of both chairmen will be directed toward the perfection of an organization that will get out the vote. More than ordinary difficulty has been experienced so far in interesting the average voter in the campaign work. The politicians are as busy as usual, but they are unable to stir up much dust. "General Apathy" seems to be larger and more formidable than usual. Such prominent speakers as Secretary Shaw and "Uncle Joe" Cannon have had only fair-sized crowds. The lesser lights have been frosted so many times this year that they are now getting accustomed to it. The campaign managers on both sides seem to construe the apathy as favorable to them, but it is evident that a lot of work will be put forth to stir up enough interest to get the voters to go to the polls.

Roscoe O. Hawkins and other leaders at the Columbia Club have arranged for R. S. Taylor of Ft. Wayne to make a speech at the club Oct. 13. It will be a real swell, exclusive affair, to which outsiders will not be asked.

BIG TRACTION WAR

Recent Evansville Merger Aimed at the McGowan Syndicate.

THE LATTER SHUT OUT

Southern Outlet For Indianapolis Lines Blocked by United States Railway Company.

Race to Reach Louisville by Trolley Has Been Handicapped by New Company.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 5.—With the merging recently of several traction lines entering Evansville, another traction syndicate has been formed in this state, the interests of which may prove antagonistic to those of the syndicate represented in Indiana by Hugh McGowan and which controls a majority of the lines entering Indianapolis and has connections covering a large part of Ohio.

The new syndicate, to be known as the United States Railway company, will have under its control the Evansville and Mt. Vernon, Evansville & Newburg, Evansville & Boonville, and the Evansville & Eastern. It will have a capital stock of $3,000,000, of which $100,000 will be held by Evansville people, and the remainder by capitalists of Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. The new company is contemplating the erection of a terminal station, fashioned after the one in Indianapolis, and is planning to make extensions and to build several new lines. The extension of the Evansville & Boonville line to New Albany and the construction of the proposed road from Evansville to Cannelton are among the early possibilities of the syndicate. The McGowan syndicate has for a long time desired to obtain a southern outlet for its Indianapolis lines, which would eventually get the syndicate into Louisville. This southern outlet was made possible by the purchase of the Princeton road, as the syndicate will be running its cars into Terre Haute by next spring, and out of Terre Haute is a line to Sullivan. By connecting the short gap between Sullivan and Vincennes, connection would be made all the way between Indianapolis and Evansville. The new syndicate, however, is now in position to block the McGowan crowd at Evansville. By controlling the lines leading out of Evansville it can prevent the Indianapolis men from moving on toward Louisville.

Madison, Ind., Oct. 5.—Robert and Benjamin Pendleton, of Kentucky, called on the Misses Clara Douglass and Luella Black in West Madison. The weapon was discharged, the bullet entering her neck, missing the windpipe and lodging against her spinal cord, causing partial paralysis of her legs and arms. Benjamin fled to Kentucky, but his brother remained and said that the fugitive would return. The girl's father exonerates him from intentional shooting. The young woman's condition is critical.

There is still much wheat to be sown here.

We note in the Republican, the celebration of the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Wykoff also the statement that this is perhaps the longest married couple in the county, but that is not the case. Mr. Allen Wiley and Miss Martha Ann Callahan were married Oct. 20, 1844.

They are both still living on their farm here, and are in fairly good health.

Donnell was able to leave to the loved ones who mourn his death the best comfort anyone can have at such a time. Many are saying the few hours since he left us, "He was a good boy." This praise has been not only on the lips of parents and wife, but repeated by a multitude of friends whom he had won to himself by the sterling qualities of his character.

His loyalty to what he believed to be right and unswerving. He grew to manhood in this community, respected and loved by all who knew him. He was trusted by those who became associated with him in whatever relation, and was a joy and pride to loving parents. He was faithful to the church of which he has been a member since early youth. For several years he had been a regular usher at the services of the church. He had an interest in the high things represented by the church and gave promise of being a strong useful Christian man.

As a son he was dearly beloved, the greatest earthly source of satisfaction and comfort to the devoted parents. His brief married life of only a year and nine months was a season of happiness and hope. He and his dear wife shared together the hope of the future years of earthly life and the hopes of the greater future beyond. They seemed to have before them a life of success.

Through the death of son and husband brings keenest sorrow to parents and wife to whom he was nearest and dearest, yet they sorrow not alone. Many have sore hearts because of his departure. The community is sad with the members of this home.

The funeral was held at the home and was conducted by J. H. MacNeill, of Kokomo, and W. W. Sniff, of Rushville. A large crowd gathered at the services out of the high esteem in which he and his friends are held. The quartet which sang was composed of Messrs. Jesse M. Pugh and B. F. Miller, and Misses Ida and Hazel Spurrier. The pall-bearers were Chase Mauzy, William Winslow, Ferd Retherford, Frank Reynolds, Hugh Mauzy and Harry McMillin. The body was laid to rest in East Hill cemetery.

Coming Quadrennial Meeting. Great preparations are in progress in the local church for the entertainment of the gathering, to which fully 320 delegates have been accredited. Possibly 1,000 visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada will attend.

President Expresses Pleasure. Washington, Oct. 5.—President Roosevelt returned from Harrisburg last evening. The president was not in the least wearied by his day in Pennsylvania and expressed great satisfaction with the large crowds which listened to him both at Harrisburg and York in spite of the rains which prevailed at both places.

Obituary.

Donnell J. Power, only son of Boone and Flora Power was born in Rush county, Indiana, March 19, 1883; died September 30, 1906, aged at the time of his death, 23 years, 6 months and 11 days. He had lived all his life in the community where he was born. He was baptized in April, 1886 by J. W. MacNeil, then pastor of the Rushville Christian church. He was married December 28, 1904, to Lillian Winslow.

Less than two weeks before his death his last illness began, and though the symptoms were serious his condition was not considered dangerous, and the friends were not particularly alarmed until the day before the end came. On Sunday last he grew worse through the day, sinking as the sun declines toward the west. The light was just fading from the sky as the light of earth grew dim to his eyes. At the exact hour when the bells were calling the people to the house of God, another call, inaudible to others near, was heard by him and to that call he responded.

Donnell was able to leave to the loved ones who mourn his death the best comfort anyone can have at such a time. Many are saying the few hours since he left us, "He was a good boy." This praise has been not only on the lips of parents and wife, but repeated by a multitude of friends whom he had won to himself by the sterling qualities of his character.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE.

Rushville Mothers Should not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bed-wetting. Later comes backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress. Seek to cure the kidneys—Save the child from deadly kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Mrs. Charles Petet, of 27 North Vine St. Shelbyville, Ind., says: I was sent to a drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills to give to my little boy, who was afflicted with nocturnal weakness of the kidneys. caused by an attack of scarlet fever. There has been no cessation of the trouble until I gave him this remedy, although we have given him other medicines and prescriptions, which failed to relieve him. Doan's Kidney Pills brought such prompt relief that I highly recommend them for children with weak kidneys."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

AMUSEMENTS

Lovers of tales of the frontier, where the Red Men take an active part, will find a thrilling treat in "The Flaming Arrow," which comes to the city opera next Wednesday evening. The characters introduced are all typical of the West in the early 60's, and includes the picturesque cow punchers, the deep dyed and treacherous Mexican, the Indian and the army officers. The story of the piece has to do with the love of a young Indian chief for a colonel's daughter. Another love story is added by a fun loving Irishman in love with a spinster who does not care to acknowledge her span of life. This furnishes much good comedy, as does "Snowball," a colored gent, who makes himself generally useful, tending the barroom, polishing the harness buckles and numerous other ways.

The All Important Question

in selecting your shoes is their fitting qualities. No matter how stylish a shoe may be, or how excellent may be the workmanship, unless it fits perfectly you will not get your money's worth; for poorly fitting shoes not only lose their shape but they wear out more quickly.
We sell shoes that are not only stylish and reliable but the fit perfectly.
We will welcome the opportunity of convincing the most skeptical that our shoes are all we claim.
